

School Building Bill Just Inches From Place On April Ballot

LANSING (P)—The state's 100-million-dollar loan program for local school construction, passed by the House Monday night, was inches short of a place on the April ballot today.

The House passed the measure by a 92-7 vote, then sent it to the Senate for approval of minor amendments.

Some senators talked of further attempts to kill the proposal, beaten in one Senate vote but passed in a second.

Debt Levy Required

The measure, introduced by Sen. William R. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), is a constitutional amendment requiring approval of the voters. It would allow the state to issue 100 million dollars in bonds, the money to be loaned to needy school districts for school construction.

Under the plan, only those districts already levying at least 13 mills for debt service would be eligible for the loans. They would have to maintain the 13-mill levy until the state's loan was repaid.

The Broomfield plan has the blessing of Gov. Williams, who said it is a better school aid plan than one he himself presented to the Legislature.

The House last night also approved a resolution calling for a bipartisan board of canvassers. A constitutional amendment requiring voter approval, it too, was sent back to the senate with minor amendments.

Shrine Purchase Approved

Clearing both chambers, a constitutional amendment to fix qualifications for supreme court and circuit court judges was placed on the April ballot. Judges would have to be attorneys and not more than 70 years of age.

The Senate passed a bill permitting the Mackinac Island State Park Commission to buy the historic "Old Mission Church" on the island for one dollar and convert it into a shrine.

Bills filed would: Amend workmen's compensation laws to require employers to furnish injured workers with medical, surgical dental care and hospitalization until the patient is cured instead of a six months' maximum.

Wounded Solons Call For Capitol Career Police

WASHINGTON (P)—Just a year ago today four Puerto Rican fanatics sprang up in a visitors gallery and, screaming Nationalist slogans, sprayed the House chamber with bullets.

On this first anniversary of that wild shooting attack, five representatives who were wounded called on Congress to replace the present politically appointed Capitol police force with a corps of professionals.

Sponsors of the bill were Representatives Roberts (D-Ala.) and Bentley (R-Mich.), who were most seriously wounded. They said they were joined in this move by Representatives Davis (D-Tenn.), Jensen (R-Iowa) and Fallon (D-Md.), other shooting casualties. All have recovered although Roberts still walks with a cane.

Speaking in the House Monday, Roberts said that "but for a miracle" many would have been killed when the Puerto Ricans—three men and a woman—pumped lead at the House floor. The four, later given long prison sentences, said they wanted to call attention to the Puerto Rican independence movement.

Bentley, who hovered close to death for several days after he was shot, said he thought the American people "would be outraged if they realized that the security measures in the House are almost identical to those that prevailed a year ago."

The House last year passed a bill to create a Capitol police force under civil service. But the Senate shelved the measure.

Ore Prices Raised By Cleveland-Cliffs

CLEVELAND (P)—Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. today increased its base prices of Mesabi iron ore by 20 cents a ton.

Mesabi non-Bessemer ore is now $10.10 and Mesabi Bessemer ore $10.25 per gross ton at rail of vessel, lower lake ports.

Cleveland-Cliffs blast furnace ore from its Marquette Range mines was increased 10 cents a ton to a base price of $10.25.

Atom Explosion Shot In Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P)—A reddish flash so bright it was seen in five states accompanied the predawn detonation today of the third atomic device in the 1955 test series.

Touched off in perfectly clear weather at 7:30 a.m. CST from a 300-foot tower, the spectacle was visible as far as Pocatello, Idaho, 475 miles away. Observers in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, and Phoenix, Ariz., also witnessed it.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the explosion was similar in power to the second shot of the series, last Feb. 22, which would make it one of the smaller explosions here. The Feb. 22 blast gave Las Vegas its best job in three years. Today's however, barely rattled windows here.

At the control station on Yucca Flat, 75 miles northwest, observers said they felt the shock as a "strong thump."

A weak boom was heard at communities in Nevada.

Bomber Kills 5 In Trailer Park At Lake Charles

LAKE CHARLES, La. (P)—A crippled B47 jet bomber smashed into a suburban residential area Monday night, killing five as it cut a fiery swath into a trailer park.

The dead included the three crewmen and a young couple whose house was demolished by flaming debris.

The six-engine Stratojet was trying to land at Lake Charles Air Force Base when it hit a power line, crashed and exploded in a field. Heavy metal pieces hurtled into the residential area.

The air base said the plane reported one engine had failed.

Capt. George Spotswood, base public information officer, identified the dead crewmen as:

Capt. Clarence Wilson, 34, pilot, California, Pa.; Capt. Mark M. Veck, 34, copilot, Downeyville, Calif.; and Capt. Elwyn B. McBe, 33, observer, Fort Worth, Tex.

The Calcasieu Parish (County) sheriff's office identified the dead civilians as Albert Morgan, 24, and his wife Kate, 20.

T. Sgt. James C. Sapp, of Lake Charles AFB, was burned when debris ignited his trailer home. His condition was termed not critical. His wife was uninjured.

Wreckage of the plane was scattered over an area more than 250 yards long and 75 yards wide. Several unoccupied houses and several trailers also were burned.

Consumers Co. Workers Strike

JACKSON (P)—CIO Utility Workers, ignoring the state's labor dispute machinery that would delay a strike at least a month, walked off their jobs at Consumers Power Co. installations around Michigan at 12:01 a.m. today.

Gas and electric service was maintained to the company's 3,250,000 customers. But continuation of service would be threatened by a prolonged strike of the 4,900 union employees or by severe storms or other emergencies.

Supervisory personnel took over operation of facilities throughout the 64-county area served by Consumers. The area covers much of Michigan's Lower Peninsula outside of Detroit.

Pickets ringed the various installations.

The walkout came only a few hours after a move by the state designed to head it off.

The State Labor Mediation Board had certified the contract dispute to the governor's office and Gov. G. Mennen Williams had named a fact-finding panel.

Workers are forbidden by state law from striking for a 30-day period given the panel to study a dispute. The panel makes recommendations for settlement. The recommendations are not binding on either party but in the past they sometimes have provided a basis for agreement.

Legion Opposes Hospital Closing

DETROIT (P)—Robert M. McCurdy, head of the American Legion's rehabilitation commission, says the legion strongly opposes a recommendation of the Hoover commission to cut the federal medical program for ex-servicemen.

McCurdy told a Detroit Economic Club audience Monday that the majority of veterans who have received medical treatment at the taxpayers expense are entitled to them. And he said the legion is opposed to closing any Veterans Administration hospital.

The Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, headed by former President Hoover, recommended Sunday among other economy moves, the closing of 19 VA hospitals, including the one at Iron Mountain, Mich.

McCurdy said of a commission report that a check turned up cases of veterans being treated for non-service disabilities who had private resources that the "average income in 71 per cent of the cases was $4,000 to $6,000."

Israel Accused Of Killing 38 Egyptians In Sneak Attack

CAIRO (P)—Egypt charged Israel today with unleashing the most violent attack along the Israeli-Egyptian border since the 1949 Palestine armistice.

The Cairo government accused Israeli forces of killing 38 Egyptians and wounding 31 others in a "sneak" attack Monday night on an army headquarters two miles inside Egypt's coastal Gaza Strip.

Five hours after the first Egyptian announcement, an Israeli spokesman in Jerusalem counter-charged that the Egyptians had crossed from Gaza into Israel to attack an Israeli unit. The Jewish spokesman said the battle had "continued into the Gaza Strip."

Senate Fails To Beat Deadline On Michigan Road Finance Program

LANSING (P)—Attempts to place a highway expansion program on the April 4 state ballot were dying on the Senate floor today.

Today is the unofficial deadline for getting a public question on the ballot—and the Senate gave clear-cut signs it will make no move to beat the deadline.

The Senate Highway Committee Monday night heard testimony from trucking company representatives who object to the House-approved Peltz plan, subject of a compromise between Gov. Williams and House Republicans.

The committee planned to continue its hearings today in a leisurely manner which gave support to leaders' statements that the Senate majority sees no need for submitting the highway program to the people.

The Peltz plan would submit to the people the question of raising the gasoline tax from 4½ cents a gallon to six cents and increasing the commercial vehicle license fee 25 per cent. It would authorize local units and the state to pledge their shares for highway construction revenue bonds, splitting the new revenue 44 per cent to the state, 37 per cent to the counties and 19 per cent to the cities.

Truck representatives objected to the 25 per cent boost on the grounds that it was "unfair" and would either bankrupt marginal truck firms or drive many out of the state.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), the Senate Republican leader, set tongues buzzing by asking on the floor whether Democratic leaders and Gov. Williams "would find out whether the CIO will support a one-and-a-half cent gas tax increase—it is important to our decisions to know."

Cook County Police Hold 8 Teenagers In Suburban Robberies

CHICAGO (P)—Cook County Sheriff's police today held eight teenagers, ranging from 14 to 18, and charged them with burglary of eight suburban homes.

Capt. Frank Quinn said the lads were arrested after police found $2,500 worth of stolen property hidden near the boys' homes in suburban Palatine.

grounds that it was "unfair" and would either bankrupt marginal truck firms or drive many out of the state.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), the Senate Republican leader, set tongues buzzing by asking on the floor whether Democratic leaders and Gov. Williams "would find out whether the CIO will support a one-and-a-half cent gas tax increase—it is important to our decisions to know."

Tornado Hits Ohio Cities; One Dead, Damage $200,000

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS ♦Tornadoes ripped into Youngstown and Troy, Ohio early today, killed at least one person and inflicted damage expected to exceed $200,000.

A woman was killed and six persons were injured in Youngstown where the violent wind blew five basementless homes off their slab foundations and badly damaged three other dwellings. Scores of sleeping residents escaped injury.

The dead woman, Mrs. Mary Fallott, was found in the driveway of her wrecked home. Her husband, Andrew, hospitalized with cuts on the shoulder, said he heard a roar, and the next moment was out in the pelting rain in the yard.

The twister hit one area, skipped a few blocks and then dipped down again near the city's eastern limits.

The damage at Youngstown was expected to total more than $100,000.

At Troy, damage was estimated at $100,000. The storm struck the

Two Held In Fatal Beating And Robbery Of Chicago Worker

CHICAGO (P)—Police today held two men they said admitted beating to death and robbing a 35-year-old steelworker whose body was found in a Northwest side alley early Monday.

Those in custody are Thomas Houser, 21, who surrendered Monday afternoon telling police his conscience troubled him, and Thomas Dohoney, 25, who was arrested Monday night at the home of his sister.

Police said the men told of beating and kicking to death Raymond Peplinski after an argument in a restaurant. Houser and Dohoney said, police reported, they removed Peplinski's wallet and divided the $20 it contained.

Craters Shoot Up Boiling Lava; Fields Ablaze

PAHOA, Hawaii (P)—A spectacular volcanic eruption spouted with new fury today and civil defense officials declared a state of emergency. One small village was virtually abandoned.

An estimated 100 acres of sugar cane fields and timber were ablaze with molten lava. More than 400 persons fled their homes in the path of the fiery rivers moving relentlessly forward.

Civil defense headquarters reported tons of fluid rock spreading out in three directions. Fountains of boiling lava shot 50 to 100 feet in the air from four white hot craters rising higher by the hour.

The state of emergency will permit officials to order people out of their homes. Some have refused. Sightseers are stopped at Pahoa. There have been no casualties and no home has fallen before the boiling streams.

The eruptions started at 8:10 a.m. Monday when a cane field five miles southeast of Pahoa in the Puna district blew up in a shower of molten lava. Since then three other fissures have opened, filling a blazing triangle bounded by the villages of Kapoho, Ophikao and Pahoa.

It was the first sign of life from Puulena crater in more than 50 years.

Sixty families were evacuated from Kapoho, two miles ahead of the largest lava flow. Police reported a few families refused to leave their homes until all hope was lost.

The main flow had picked up speed and shortly before midnight had moved 500 feet in two hours. Kapoho was cut off from communications. The few people left there, however, have an escape route up the coast.

Throughout the night sightseeing planes circled low over the blazing inferno. Two Hawaiian airline planes flew 30 extra excursion flights over the volcano.

Mrs. Davis was held without bond on a first-degree murder charge, Guinn said. The children—two girls aged 14 and 11, and a boy, 8—also were charged with murder but were released to relatives, he said.

The sheriff said Mrs. Davis came to his office Monday and gave this account:

"The family was returning to their home near here Sunday night through the edge of the Great Smoky Mountains when Davis stopped the car at the edge of an embankment and said: 'You had better all start praying, as we are all going to hell together.'"

At that the family began beating him. In the statement, Mrs. Davis gave no reason for her husband's action.

The sheriff said Davis' body was found in the parked car on the highway.

Senate Finance Committee To Reject Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (P)—The scales of the Senate Finance Committee appeared tipped today against a House-passed tax cut of $20 a person to take effect next Jan. 1. "The show's over," said one committee Republican, asking anonymity, when he heard that Sen. George (D-Ga.) had stated he would vote to knock out the cut.

Margin Shifts To GOP In any event, the issue appeared likely to be carried to the Senate floor later in the week.

Republicans said their seven committee members were holding fast against the cut, although some expressed uncertainty about Sen. Malone (R-Nev.). Malone declined to say how he would vote.

But with Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) and George committed to vote to strike out the tax cut, the GOP side could win even with one defection.

Democrats have an 8-7 majority on the committee.

Sen. Barkley (D-Ky.) proposed a compromise to put into gradual effect the income tax reduction. It would provide a $10-a-person cut in 1956, $15 in 1957 and $20 starting in 1958. This attracted no immediate support from those opposing any cut at this time.

Danger of Inflation

The House bill would make the $20 - a - person reduction effective Jan. 1 next year. It would cost the Treasury about $2,200,000,000 a year.

It would also extend for a year the present corporation and excise rates scheduled to drop April 1. This provision, asked by President Eisenhower, would continue about three billion in annual revenue.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey vigorously attacked the $20 plan Monday before the committee, arguing it could set off another round of inflation.

Children Help Murder Father

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (P)—A mother and three children—the oldest only 14—faced murder charges today after the woman told police she and the children beat and choked her husband to death when he threatened them.

Sheriff Ed Guinn said Mrs. Sam E. Davis Jr., 41, said in a statement Monday she hit Davis on the head with a wrench while two of the children choked him with a belt after he threatened to drive the family car over a steep embankment.

Mrs. Davis was held without bond on a first-degree murder charge, Guinn said. The children—two girls aged 14 and 11, and a boy, 8—also were charged with murder but were released to relatives, he said.

The sheriff said Mrs. Davis came to his office Monday and gave this account:

"The family was returning to their home near here Sunday night through the edge of the Great Smoky Mountains when Davis stopped the car at the edge of an embankment and said: 'You had better all start praying, as we are all going to hell together.'"

At that the family began beating him. In the statement, Mrs. Davis gave no reason for her husband's action.

The sheriff said Davis' body was found in the parked car on the highway.

Invite Workers Return To Jobs

GLADSTONE—Management of the North Western Veneer & Pulpwood Corporation has invited its employees to return to work, effective yesterday, but there was no response to date from Local No. 9, Mill and Timber Workers Industrial Union, to whom the letter was addressed, said Matt Faussner, plant manager.

About 150 men are off the job at the Veneer & Pulpwood Corporation's plant. The work stoppage occurred Feb. 21.

Faussner said that on Saturday the following letter from management was addressed to and received by Martin Olive, recording secretary of Local No. 9:

"As explained to your President on Feb. 21, 1955, and as you know, this plant cannot operate until the logs have been heated, which takes a minimum of eight hours, and we cannot resume full production for at least 24 hours.

"The plant will resume its normal operations on Monday, Feb. 28, 1955. We will be able to accommodate on the first shift in accordance with the attached list."

The list contained the names of employees and the schedule of resuming job operations.

Letters To The Editor

POWER PROBLEM
March 1, 1955

Editor
Escanaba Daily Press.

In Wall Street on the Stock Exchange, brokers buy and sell stocks for investors. A broker tells investors that good stocks are worth 10 times earnings, if it pays a dividend.

The Upper Peninsula Power Co. has a "B" rating which is called fair. This rating is from Fitch Stock Ratings book. Their stock is selling about 16 times earnings on the unlisted market.

The City of Escanaba showed $250,000.00 profit last year.

The worth of the electric distribution system should be at least 10 times earnings, which would be $2,500,000.00. This is the true minimum value. Twelve times earnings would be 3 million.

If the Upper Peninsula Power Co. would pay $2,500,000.00 the taxpayers would get the true value.

The Co. would have to build a plant costing $4,500,000. This would make a total of 7 million dollars.

Seven million dollars can be raised by 70,000 income interest debenture bonds of $100.00 each, paying 4 per cent.

Earnings I estimate at $500,000. Deduct int. 4 x 70,000 which is $280,000. Which leaves for government tax and Co. $220,000. Deduct 52 per cent Corp. tax $110,000. Leaving balance for common of $110,000.

The price of the stock now is around 27. It paid div. last year of $1.25.

If the Co. gets the contract it will mean about 25c a share more for the common stock which should put the common stock over $30.00 a share.

I believe the Co. should get the contract as they have the know-how of selling power. The cost of putting up a power plant is getting cheaper.

This contract will give the Upper Peninsula Power Co. a chance to buy coal in a big way and a chance for them to get it much cheaper than the Mead Corp. or any one else. There should be no reason to raise the rates.

I believe they should get the contract on the above terms of $2,500,000.

Respectfully,
Wm. F. J. Primrose,

NCA Asks Permission To Use City Airport For Detroit Flights

The Upper Peninsula Air Transportation Committee has petitioned the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington for favorable consideration of the application of North Central Airlines for temporary exemption of North Central Airlines for temporary exemption on its flight schedules between Willow Run Airport and City Airport in Detroit, Robert G. Murphy, Menominee, chairman, has announced.

The planes of North Central now terminate at Willow Run about 22 miles from Detroit. The airline desires to continue its flights to City Airport, which is located in the city. Stops would first be made at Willow Run, however, to discharge or receive passengers for transfer to trunklines.

The petition of the Upper Peninsula Air Transportation Committee emphasizes that public convenience and necessity can best be served by permitting North Central Airlines to terminate its flights at City airport.

The committee pointed out that Detroit is the leading destination for Upper Peninsula air traffic and that passengers should be afforded the convenience of deplaning at Detroit rather than Willow Run. Passengers now must take a bus into Detroit from Willow Run airport.

In 1954 there were 5,859 passengers of North Central Airlines in the Upper Peninsula, of which 1,943 had Detroit as their destination. A total of 1,495 had Chicago as their destination.

Geological Survey Told To Rotarians Work In Michigan

The program of the geological survey, a division of the Michigan Department of Conservation, was described by Arthur Slaughter of Escanaba, head of the geological survey in the Upper Peninsula, to the Rotary Club at its Monday noon meeting.

Slaughter was introduced by Russell Lee, member of the Rotary Club's program committee.

Established in 1837, the same year Michigan was admitted to statehood, the geological survey's first chief was Douglas Houghton, famed for his discovery and development of the state's mineral wealth.

Because he is the only representative of the geological survey in the U. P. at the present time, Slaughter explained that he is in a sense "a jack of all trades," but that his work is primarily concerned with the solution of community and industrial water problems.

The geological survey also acts as the Board of Geographic Names for the state and Slaughter said his assistance has been offered the Delta County Historical Society in its project to name some un-named lakes and to find new names for those with similar names.

In response to questions, Slaughter said that "water can't be found by someone walking around with a twig," and that it is best to rely on factual scientific treatment. In connection with Cleveland Cliffs Company's exploration for low-grade iron ores in the Perkins area of Delta County, Slaughter said that diamond drilling is expensive and if it continues it might be assumed that the company "has found something."

The meeting was attended by two Gladstone Rotarians, Will Marble and Clayton Johnson, while two Escanaba Rotarians, Don Trotter and James G. Ward Jr., attended the Gladstone Rotary Club meeting.

Phones Speeded Kiwanians Told

How mechanical switchboards are speeding up long distance telephone calls was outlined in a talk to Escanaba Kiwanis Club members Monday by Jack Farley of Menominee, district commercial superintendent for the Bell Telephone Co. As an example the speaker cited a cross-country call which in 1920 would have taken 17 minutes and would have cost $13.45. The same call today could be completed in 1½ minutes and the cost would be $2.35.

Synchronization of long distance telephone service had first to surmount the problem of providing numbers for some 51 million phones without duplication. This has been accomplished by laying out 90 zones, many of them splitting up states, and adopting a two-letter, five-number designation for the individual phone.

Completion of a machine switching system will enable the customer to place a call to anywhere in the United States in 15 seconds. Mr. Farley declared, and to that end cities are steadily being changed over to dial operation of phones. Marquette, Mich., was placed on a dial system recently, and Escanaba will be changed over in the near future.

Mechanization of switchboards will not mean the elimination of human operators, the speaker pointed out. He declared that if mechanization had not been adopted there would not be enough female help available in the United States to operate switchboards at their present volume.

The program was arranged by Albin Carlson, local Bell Telephone maintenance chief. George Marcouiller, manager of the Escanaba exchange, was a guest at the meeting.

Alumni To Honor U-M President At Friday Dinner

The University of Michigan Alumni Club will honor Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, at a dinner meeting here Friday at the Delta Hotel.

Reservations for the 6:30 dinner must be made before Wednesday noon by calling 2129, the U. of M. Extension Service office.

Dr. Hatcher is now on a speaking tour of the Upper Peninsula, and is accompanied by Charles Folio, U. of M. Extension Service supervisor in the U. P.; J. Joseph Herbert, Manistique, regent of the University of Michigan; and George F. Perrin of Escanaba, director of the 11th District U. of M. Alumni Association.

Dr. Hatcher, eighth president of the University, was vice president of Ohio State University before succeeding Alexander G. Ruthven as head of Michigan's University.

Briefly Told

Weight Restrictions—Effective at noon today, March 1, weight restrictions are extended to include all types of state trunk lines from the south state line north to M-20 and all trunk lines in the thumb area.

St. Francis Auxiliary—St. Francis Auxiliary will hold its first meeting Wednesday, March 2, at 2 p. m. at St. Francis Hospital. Officers will be elected and a constitution and by-laws will be discussed.

Outer End C&NW Dock No. 5 To Be Dismantled

The outer end of the Chicago & North Western Railway's ore dock No. 5, not maintained since 1945, will be removed by the Willie Lumber Company of Duluth, it was announced today.

J. F. Friets, assistant division engineer for the C&NW, said that about 850 feet of the dock, containing 150 ore pockets, will be dismantled by the Willie Company. The dock structure will be removed down to the water line.

Because that portion of No. 5 dock has not been maintained since 1945, it would mean that it would almost have to be rebuilt if it were again put into service. Friets explained, Dock No. 5 was not used at all during the 1954 ore shipping season. It now has a total length of 2,200 feet.

W. P. Willie of the Duluth firm scheduled to remove the outer end of the dock was in Escanaba yesterday in preparation for the start of the dismantling project. The timbers to be removed will be shipped out, sawed into lumber and sold.

Work is expected to start soon on the razing of the outer portion of the dock. There is no completion date specified in the contract between the Railway Company and the Lumber Company.

Promote Guardsmen Here In Company C

A total of six guardsmen of Company C, 107th Engineers, have been advanced in rank, according to Capt. Roy J. Johnson, local company commander. All promotions become effective on March 1.

Promoted to the permanent position of corporal with a title of combat construction specialist are Privates First Class Jon Servant and Francis Lessard. These new non-commissioned officers have successfully passed the local company's evaluation and promotion board. The board, composed of company officers, has tested the men on military and engineering subjects, both written and orally.

The following privates, grade E-1, were advanced one step up the ladder to pioneer privates grade E-1: Arnold Bourdeau, Barry Gereau, Wayne Louis and Fred Pfister. They are also recent graduates of the Company recruit training school.

Cub Scout Pack 411 Plans Family Dinner

Cub Scout Pack 411 of Jefferson-St. Patrick's Schools will hold its annual Blue and Gold dinner Monday night, March 7 at the Delta Hotel. Dinner will be served promptly at 6:30.

A special award program has been planned and Mr. Martin, Boy Scout executive from Marquette will be the guest speaker. Any family that has not been contacted by the Den Mothers, but plans to attend, is asked to call Cubmaster Myron T. Austad, phone 2217 before Friday night, for reservations.

'Stop' Sign At Dangerous Grade Crossings Cut Accident Rate

IN 1953 the Michigan Legislature enacted a law which made the use of highway "Stop" signs optional on highways with railroad crossings. Twenty such signs were erected at grade crossings a year ago and it is interesting to note the developments.

Previous to the installation of these signs there had been 101 accidents at these crossings in the period from 1937 to 1953. The record showed as high as 13 crashes at one location, 11 at another, 10 at another and more than five at each of seven other locations. Since the installation of the signs there has not been a single accident at any one of these crossings.

At 12 crossings in Niles at which 57 accidents occurred in the 1937-53 period, not one accident has since been experienced.

Words, Wit & Wisdom
By William Morris

"Tonight," writes a San Bernardino reader, "my daughter asked how Buffalo Bill got his name. I told her that it was because he always wore a jacket made from buffalo hide but my husband says it's because he killed a lot of buffaloes. Can you tell me which one of us is right or—if we're both wrong—where the name came from?"

Your husband is right—but there is actually nothing romantic or even very daring about the way William Frederick Cody got his famous nickname. Although, thanks to later exploitation in his Wild West Show and in countless paperback novels, Buffalo Bill has come to symbolize the gallant, sharpshooting, fearless hero who opened our West, he earned his nickname as a contract supplier of buffalo meat to feed the workers of the Union Pacific Railroad. His name, indeed, stemmed chiefly from the magnitude of his butchery, since he reportedly slaughtered more than 4,000 buffalo in less than two years.

Cody did, however, have many brave and colorful deeds to his credit. A rider for the Pony Express at the age of fourteen, he served with distinction as a scout in the Indian wars and earned decorations for bravery in battle. But it was as an enormously successful showman, both in this country and abroad, that he earned his lasting place in American folklore.

"What," asks a New York reader, "is meant by the phrase 'leading question'?" Is this a 'when did you stop beating your wife' sort of query?"

No, though many people wrongly think that a leading question is one designed to obtain an answer which will embarrass or incriminate the person being questioned. Correctly used, a leading question is merely one so carefully phrased that it will help by suggesting an answer. Though lawyers often attempt to use such questions in interrogating their witnesses, opposing counsel will usually object, complaining that the rival lawyer "is putting words into the witness' mouth." The court usually sustains the objection.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

A New Yorker in a loud, checked suit brought his cream-colored convertible to a stop before a Texas gas station and commanded curtly, "Hey you! Fill her up!" The attendant tossed an empty oil can into the air, whipped out a pistol, and punctured the can four times before it hit the ground. "That's the way we handle fresh folks in these parts," he said.

"That so?" replied the customer softly, taking an apple from his pocket. He threw it as high as the gas station roof, drew a knife, and peeled the apple on the way down. "While you're at it," he suggested, "you'd better check the oil and water."

Fight managers aren't what they used to be, now that television has entered the act, maintains Budd Schulberg. They used to yell, "Don't forget to duck, kid." Now

ed. In some of those crossings elaborate warning signals had previously been installed. All of them, of course, had at least the standard railroad crossing warning signs.

The dramatic and happy results of the experiment with "Stop" signs on the highways reflects the natural respect of motorists for highway marking signals and particularly for "Stop" signs.

A motorist who will gamble with his life to ignore a flashing light on a railroad grade crossing will obey a highway "Stop" sign.

Greater use of such signs undoubtedly will be encouraged as a safe but inexpensive way of licking the problem of accidents at grade crossings.

Such a sign, for instance, would be a tremendous factor in licking the accident problem in the grade crossing at Hyde where a fatal accident recently occurred. This is a particularly dangerous crossing because vision is obscured for motorists traveling south towards the crossing.

Residents in that area petitioned the Chicago and North Western to install a flasher signal at that crossing but the railroad declined.

The logical answer obviously is the installation of a "Stop" sign, at least for motorists making the approach from the north, traveling south.

School buses, commercial passenger buses and many freight trucks always stop at grade crossings, with or without a "Stop" sign. That's why these vehicles rarely get involved in accidents at railroad crossings.

Irresponsible
Radio Program

THE St. Louis radio station that played one record, "So All Alone", for 60 hours may be proud of the fact that it set a new record for continuous playing of one tune. But it also set a record for irresponsibility.

Can you imagine anything as silly as this? The title of this tune is appropriate under the circumstances. We can well imagine that the disc jockeys who spun the records quickly achieved the objective of the song. They were "So All Alone" after the first couple playings of the record.

We cannot imagine a responsible business and a communication medium as important as a radio station wasting 60 hours of precious time spinning the same platter over and over again.

A newspaper that was foolish enough to repeat the same page over and over again would quickly go out of business.

And it should.

We can only hope that the same thing happens to the St. Louis radio station.

An etiquette book for men warns against handing a taxi driver a nickel tip. That's not etiquette—it's self-defense.

Six tons of dishes are washed annually by the average housewife, says a home scientist. No wonder there are so many fat people!

they exhort, "Don't let him get away with that! He's trying to keep your back to the camera again!"

The Doctor Says . . .
Punishment Alone Is Seldom
Answer To Behavior Problems
By EDWIN P. IORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Practically all parents are faced at one time or another with curious behavior problems in their children. One mother writes, "An 8-year-old daughter of mine does not eat well and has also developed a twitch in her face wrinkling her nose to one side. My husband and I differ on how to handle this. He feels she should be kept at the table until she eats or punished if she does not. I think if he, her brother and three sisters would ignore her she would be better. There is also a new baby 18 months old who may be affecting her behavior."

Another mother asks what could cause her child aged between one and two to pull his hair out along the side of his head.

CIRCUMSTANCES SUCH as these are certainly frequent. It is pretty safe to say that in both instances the children are using their behavior to attract attention and in response to some deep-seated unhappiness, jealousy or emotional difficulty. Punishment alone is rarely the answer. When possible the parents should attempt to find out what is worrying the child and if this can be remedied the nervous habits should improve or disappear.

I do not mean to imply that discipline should never be applied but it should be kindly and firm, rather than irritable and the result of a quick temper. There is, however, usually an element of seeking attention in the development of these habits and therefore in most instances parents and brothers and sisters should not pay too much attention to them. To that extent one must agree with the position of the first mother rather than with that of her husband.

A QUESTION OF A different kind comes from another mother who writes that her daughter in her teens is starting to get gray hair. The girl loves to read, the mother writes, and wonders whether that has anything to do with the hair or what she could do about it.

There is no doubt that reading has nothing to do with the gray hair developing in this girl. In most instances early graying of the hair is the result of hereditary or family factors and there is no food which can be taken or any medicine given which will halt the process.

IT IS LIKELY to be slow developing, however, and should not be taken too seriously either by the girl or her parents. If it is resulting in teasing by the girl's friends; it might be well to consider using a tint which would make the hair less conspicuously gray until she is old enough to be more entitled to it.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—If there is a single outstanding defect out of the many that beset free governments today it is the unwillingness of the so-called intellectual groups to face moral issues.

For months now there has been a steady and persistent campaign both here and abroad which seeks to establish the premise that because the Communists have possession of the mainland of China and are claiming some sort of title to Formosa, the free world might as well embrace the Peiping government and admit it to the United Nations.

Yet this very week the British government has released the story of the awful treatment experienced by prisoners of the Red Chinese in Korea. In Britain they have been talking glibly, as do many of our own "left wingers" about the "legal" position of the Peiping government and of how under "international law," the mutual defense treaty between the United States and the Nationalist government on Formosa has no validity. But memories are short. Only a few years ago during wartime there were in London many "governments in exile" with which the British and American governments dealt daily and in fact recognized them as the legal governments of their own countries, even though the latter didn't control an inch of territory. General de Gaulle, for instance, rather than General Petain in occupied Paris was the officially recognized head of the government of France.

There is today a state of war between Peiping and the U. N. In February 1951 the United Nations formally declared the Red China government an aggressor in Korea. While an armistice has been signed, it has been repeatedly violated by the Communists. No treaty of peace has yet been signed. That's a "legal" fact, too. Also the Peiping government has again and again insulted the U. N. and refused to accept its auspices in unifying Korea or in any other controversy including the one that has recently arisen about the Chinese offshore islands and Formosa.

NO WORLD GOVERNMENT

There is nothing wrong about the United Nations that a little moral courage and adherence to principle wouldn't cure. The United Nations concept indeed was and is a great ideal. The thought that nations could bind themselves together and take measures for their own collective security as a sort of restraint upon the nationalistic passions of any one of their number is still a wonderful objective for which mankind can strive. But the thick-and-thin defenders of the U. N. are its worst enemies. They talk of the U. N. as if it were a world government and they join in efforts to defeat the Bricker amendment without offering an effective procedure to prevent United Nations action from overriding the Constitution of the United States.

The other day when the Senate judiciary committee was questioning John Marshall Harlan, nominated for the Supreme Court of the United States, it was apparent that fear of a world government to be set up by the U. N. is deeply imbedded in the minds of many members of the Senate. What was most disconcerting was the assumption that a man of good character and devotion to moral purpose would allow any preconceptions on foreign policy to influence his judgment on the merits of any case that might come before him as a justice of the highest court. Yet it was the "left wing" Senator Norris of Nebraska who publicly imputed to Charles Evans Hughes, when nominated for the bench, all sorts of improper attitudes just because he had been a corporation lawyer. Mr. Norris lived to regret his action. It will be recalled, too, that leaders of organized labor kept one of the most liberal and progressive jurists in America, Judge Parker of North Carolina, from being confirmed for the Supreme Court because he had once decided a labor case against them.

INTEGRITY COUNTS

Either a prospective member of the high court is intellectually honest and moral or he is faithless and doesn't deserve any office. What difference does it make whether Mr. Harlan did or did not join a world government group? Justice Black was once a member of the Ku Klux Klan but nobody has ever been able to point to a single decision of his on the Supreme Court that has been hostile to civil rights of any kind.

Either a judge knows the meaning of fairness and is ready to write opinions based on the law and the constitution or he is a crusader for a cause and doesn't belong on the bench at all. Unfortunately there are individuals serving on the bench today who are hurting that concept by their open advocacy of one side or the other of highly controversial political questions of the hour.

Morality is not absent in the populace as a whole nor courage either, but the absence of these virtues in many so-called political leaders here and abroad who have voices powerful enough to mislead the people is the most dangerous poison in modern democracy.

Slow Red Death Of Nanchi Isle Like Ancient Mandarin Torture

By FRED SPARKS

TAIPEI, Formosa — (NEA) — Thousands of dead fish bob in the huge swells around rocky Nanchi Island, a glorious feast for the screaming clouds of white-bellied sea gulls.

The fish are victims of Chinese Communist bombs blasting the waters around Nanchi to terrorize the fishing fleet that feeds the island.

And at night, in ancient junks with oil lamps flickering in the fo'c'sles, Communist marines land on the many tiny rocks that poke out of the seas around Nanchi to set up mortars and light artillery.

Thus is Nanchi, an important radar center and garrison for Nationalist China, being starved and readied for death.

It is being done with a deliberation that recalls an ancient Mandarin torture: a man's hands were pulled under his knees and wired to his neck with a noose; as he twitched and squirmed, he slowly strangled himself.

Nanchi is just south of the Tachens, recently evacuated by a vast American armada. Communists are moving south to crush all Nationalist islands in the straits as a prelude to the siege of Formosa itself.

Small in the shadow of huge armies, unimportant in the age of the H-bomb, the loss of Nanchi will allow Peiping to cut another notch in its "conquest belt." And what's left of Free Asia will ask: "Who dares stand against the Great Khan of Peiping?"

This question is being asked as the speeches of foreign ministers at the Bangkok Conference are broadcast to the remotest rice paddy. They speak of determination to block the Great Khan. But Asia wants to know when resolution ever cocks a revolver.

Night traffic is two-way around Nanchi as Nationalist junks evacuate non-combatants, women and children, shivering under greasy tarpaulins, flatten on deck planks behind steel sheets fixed along the rails to deflect bullets fired blindly from adjacent islands.

Will the Nanchi garrison, recently hardened by squads of rugged guerrilla troops from the Tachens, be ordered to stand—stand or die?

Hardly. The end of Nanchi is near. America will not risk ships and sons to shield this remote offshore island. Chiang Kai-shek cannot do it alone. He hasn't the air muscle to tangle with the ugly sweep - back MIGs already scooping the island's grave with rocket cannon.

The only question: Will the Seventh Fleet, experienced in North Indo-China and the Tachens, again be used for evacuation? Nationalists have evacuated boats to carry away the garrison and its military gear, donated by the U.S.A.

But this new Dunkirk, if it's a Nationalist business alone, cannot hope to slip the noose without punishment from air, sea and land. Such permission was granted the Tachen evacuation by Peiping, which is still reluctant to close with the Seventh Fleet.

Before the Nanchi story concludes, the dead fish floating around Nanchi will surely have human companionship.

Little Businessmen Fight French Taxes

PARIS —(NEA)—Ten thousand little shopkeepers and artisans answered his call to arms at a mass Paris rally.

He is the first and only man—outside of the Communists—who has been able to call for a "peaceful insurrection" in 30,000 French parishes.

He is 34-year-old Pierre Poujade, a once obscure bookseller whose rebellion against the French tax system has made him the hero and leader of 300,000 little businessmen.

Until 18 months ago, Poujade's life centered around his bookshop in St. Cere, a town of 8000; his membership on the municipal council. Then he got a notice from the tax controller that his bookkeeping would be subject to fiscal control.

Fifty other shopkeepers in the town got notices, too. Poujade, whose "gift of gab" is well recognized in St. Cere, persuaded them to fight back. When the comptrollers turned up they met with such hostility that they abandoned their mission.

That was the spark that set off the little businessmen of France in an organized resistance against what Poujade calls the "inquisitorial methods of tax collectors, the traps they set for their victims, and their brutal treatment."

Since then, the Poujade Movement has become the Union of Defense of Shopkeepers and Artisans with 300,000 members out of an estimated 800,000 small businessmen. There have been 500 protest meetings, and a $150,000 war chest has been collected.

"We are not revolutionaries," Poujade's followers declare. But Poujade himself warns: "The revolution will be automatic if government and parliament remain deaf to our warnings. I am your spokesman in the struggle against tax injustices imposed on the little people. The government persecutes us. But at the same time it extends preferential treatment to big business."

His crusade keeps Poujade rushing all over France for rallies. He rests one Sunday out of two, often gets along on as little as four hours of sleep.

What Poujade and his followers seek in the way of reform adds up to these major points:

Taxation for the little shopkeeper on the same basis as big business, which can write off such items as capital investments, directors' and managers' salaries, and reserve funds.

Taxation computed on net profits to eliminate paper work that makes a shopkeeper a state accountant.

Abolition of fines that are out of proportion to the errors made.

Abolition of fiscal control in any form.

Equal rights in regard to Social Security benefits, family allowances and old-age pensions.

In their rebellion, Poujade's followers are rejecting the tax controllers' arbitrary assessments. When the comptroller threatens a shopkeeper with control, he arrives to find the shutters down, and a sign on the door: "Closed Because of Strike."

Some collectors have called in the militia. But when a shopkeeper is backed to the wall, Poujade's battle order calls for a closed "distress sale" at which other followers buy the goods at the lowest possible price, then hand them back to the original owner.

Poujade has been called a Communist and a fascist, but he brushes off such names with an expressive shrug.

"We all belong to the same party," he says. "It's the party of Frenchmen who pay and pay and are doomed to die because of the absurd tax system."

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON
(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Eisenhower's reversal of his previous reversal of a Civil Aeronautics Board decision in the west coast-Hawaii commercial airline case focuses new attention on political pressures being brought to bear on CAB.

As finally approved by the President, Northwest Airlines and Pan American Airways will operate parallel routes from Seattle-Portland to Honolulu for three years. Pan American and United will operate from Los Angeles-San Francisco to Honolulu.

Last December, by a unanimous five-to-nothing vote, CAB recommended that Northwest be granted a permanent certificate to operate Portland-Seattle to Honolulu, exclusively.

On Feb. 2, in an unprecedented action, the White House made public a letter from President Eisenhower to Acting CAB Chairman Chan Gurney. It rejected the board's recommendation on this and other aspects of the larger, transpacific airline route application cases.

The action was unprecedented because it was the first time since CAB was set up in 1938 that one of its five-to-nothing recommendations had been overruled by any President. For the White House to make public this controversy was unheard of.

USUAL PROCEDURE IS FOR the President to sign draft orders prepared by CAB, then issue supplementary orders. Or, if the President does not like the draft orders, they are quietly sent back for revision before being made public by CAB itself.

In this case, the White House staff feared there would be a leak. So they gave out all the details themselves.

The resulting explosion in aviation circles was louder than a jet breaking the sound barrier. What this looked like was that Northwest Airlines, which had pioneered the Seattle-Portland to Honolulu route, was being frozen out to give Pan Am preference as the government's "chosen instrument," which it long desired to be.

Donald W. Nyrop, president of Northwest, flew into Washington and started dropping bombs. Having been both Civil Aeronautics administrator and chairman of CAB, he knew all the vulnerable targets. He began by calling congressmen, asking them to call the White House and CAB to find out what went on.

SEN. WARREN MAGNUSON (D., Wash.) proposed an investigation of CAB and a new law to take away the President's right to allocate foreign airline routes and territories.

Republican CAB Acting Chairman Gurney and Chief Counsel Emory T. Nunneley, Jr., were called to the White House. Present were Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, former Undersecretary Robert B. Murray, Jr., and Gov. Sherman Adams.

The presence of Weeks and Murray was considered significant. CAB is supposed to operate as an independent, quasi-judicial body, free from Commerce Department interference. But over the past two years there have been increasing complaints in Congress that Commerce officials were trying to influence CAB influence.

In the last Congress, Rep. Carl Hinshaw (R., Calif.), one of the pioneers in civil aviation matters, introduced bills to prevent CAB and CAA domination by the Commerce Department.

ANYWAY, CHAIRMAN GURNEY was able to present to this White House conference his board's reasons for keeping Northwest in business on the Honolulu route. Much of this data had not been presented to the President before by his staff and advisers.

On the basis of this information, President Eisenhower decided to reverse his reversal of the original CAB five-to-nothing recommendation—at least in part. Northwest was put back in the picture, though not on a permanent and exclusive basis, as CAB recommended. Pan Am was kept in, too.

CAB lawyers went to work drafting new orders to carry out the President's changed decision. They were all ready for issuance Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 15. But they were held up till the next noon.

Right up to the very last minute, there was heavy pressure applied to get the President to go back to his original reversal of the CAB recommendations. It was reported that at one point Secretary Weeks had threatened to resign if this was not done. This the secretary denies. But the President stuck to his original second reversal.

Women's Activities

Club Federation Will Support The Cross Fund

Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs with headquarters in Washington, D. C., today announced that she is urging the participation of the 15,000 member clubs in the erection of a 500 foot cross to be built on the top of Bald Knob Mountain in Southern Illinois, about 75 miles from the population center of the United States.

Easter sunrise services have been held on top of this mountain since 1936, when 250 people were present. By the fifth year crowds of 10,000 were attending the Easter services.

The intention is to erect a cross of such design that it will be visible for 5,000 square miles in the daytime and twice that far at night.

A campaign to raise at least $3,000,000 opened in Washington today with an appeal to all Christian denominations to share in this project.

The Bald Knob Christian Foundation, chartered by the State of Illinois, will receive contributions and will erect the cross after a nationwide architectural contest.

The member clubs of the GFWC have been asked by the president to interest local groups of all types in support of The Cross as it will be called. The Cross will contain shrines of all denominations. The paths leading to it will be paved with stones from the Holy Land. Contributions may be sent directly to The Cross, Cairo, Ill.

Common Sense Is The Best Pound-Trimmer

Plain crackers and fruit juice or milk make a snack for Actress Donna Reed while she studies a script. Her common-sense diet avoids tempting—but overrich—party tidbits.

Here's the third of a seven-day series to show you a star's road to the smart way to stay slim—by dieting BEFORE you get fat. The star is Academy Award Winner Donna Reed, whose newest picture is Paramount's "The Far Horizon." The expert calorie-counter who mapped out the diet to help you follow Miss Reed's family-style example is the Supervising Nutritionist of the New York City Health Department.

By DONNA REED

(Written for NEA Service)
Changing your food habits in order to prevent weight gain is not really difficult. It doesn't even take lots of will power; it just takes common sense.

When you have a cup of tea, do as I do. Omit the cream and sugar. If you can't bear to drink coffee black, then use a little milk in place of cream. Make it a habit never to eat rich desserts; substitute fruit, either cooked or raw. Have cheese and crackers as an alternate.

If you must have a mid-afternoon snack, have carrot sticks or an apple in place of chocolate cake or a hot fudge sundae.

Avoid hot bread and gravies and cut down on your intake of starchy foods.

Stay away from cream soups and rich salad dressing and pass up those tempting little tidbits that are passed about at parties. They're loaded with poundage. Don't dip into potato chips or peanuts if you're spending the evening at a friend's house. A few potato chips each day can add as much as eight pounds in a year's time.

It won't be long before you'll find that your food tastes have changed. It won't be hard to pass up rich snacks and gooey desserts because you'll no longer have a craving for them. You won't dream of putting sugar in your tea and you can't possibly go back to coffee with cream.

West opened the heart queen. The ace was played, and South then ruffed a heart as the first step toward stripping the hand. Next, he led a trump to the jack and ruffed dummy's last heart. Now he went back to dummy.

with a trump and carefully selected the diamond jack as his next lead.

When East failed to cover (for the best of all reasons) South went right up with the diamond ace, cashed the diamond king, and exited with the diamond ten. As he confidently expected, it was West who took the trick with the diamond queen—and now West was fixed. A club return would give South three tricks in the suit, and any other return would give him a ruff-and-discard.

South would have had a 3 to 1 chance for success by taking both finesses—in diamonds and in clubs—but he evidently felt that his own line of play was superior, and who can say that he was wrong? He felt sure that East, if he had the diamond queen, would cover the jack, because he couldn't know that South had the diamond ten along with the A-K, and if West had the ten, East's failure to cover might be catastrophic. Thus, when the diamond jack was not covered, South was willing to stake everything on the fact that he could throw the lead to West.

South All Lost To Eisenhower, Says Sen. Gore

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said today he doesn't believe President Eisenhower will have "an outside chance to carry a single Southern state in 1956."

Gore said he disagrees with Democratic Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana, who said Monday in Richmond, Va., that if Adlai E. Stevenson is the Democratic candidate again he will run into party opposition as he did in 1952. Stevenson lost four Dixie states to Eisenhower: Texas, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee.

Kennon supported Eisenhower in 1952. Gore, who backed Stevenson, noted this in an interview and asked: "Who is he to tell the Democrats whom they should nominate?"

Kennon, suggesting alternates to Stevenson, said he wasn't predicting that any Democratic candidate could beat Eisenhower. The President has given no public word as to whether he will run in '56.

Kennon and Republican Gov. Walter J. Kohler of Wisconsin had a White House appointment with Eisenhower late today. James C. Hagerly, White House press secretary, said he understood the two wanted to discuss the administration's highway aid program. The Louisiana governor is chairman of the Governors' Conference.

Gore said he believes the traditional Democratic hold on the South has been solidified by Eisenhower administration policies. "The people of the South don't like the President's policy of giving tax relief to the rich," he said. "They don't like his farm policy and they don't like his power policies."

"If Eisenhower is a candidate again in 1956, and I assume he will be, I don't think he has an outside chance to carry a single Southern state."

Ice Will Delay Shipping At Soo

DETROIT (AP) — W.W. Oak, chief of the Detroit Weather Bureau, said today ice likely will prevent opening of the Soo Locks and Lake Superior ports until sometime between April 13 and 18.

Buffalo's port probably will not be open until then, either, Oak said in his first 1955 ice report.

He predicted navigation could open at Detroit and Cleveland between March 15 and 20.

Lake Erie has much more ice than last year, Oak said, and much of the ice in the spring breakup throughout the Great Lakes usually finds its way to Buffalo, jamming the harbor.

Lakes Superior and Michigan were reported to have more ice than at this time last year, but Lake Michigan's ice is mostly concentrated in the northern end.

Meditations for LENT

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM
Dept. of English Bible,
National Council of Churches
Written for NEA Service

Lent, is a Christian custom, yet Jesus gave no rule for its observance. In connection with what he had to say about fasting, older versions of the Bible read: "Thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly" (Matthew 6:18). The Revised Standard Version at this point has rather: "Your Father who sees in secret will reward you."

Why did earlier translations add "openly"? Remember that until the invention of printing, all Bibles were copied out by hand. Scribes sometimes wrote words in the margin. Later scribes included these notes in the text, with the result that old documents kept getting longer.

Some Copyist, reading God "will reward you," wrote a marginal note to the effect that this reward would be outward and visible. His successor, careful to leave nothing out, included this as a part of the saying of Jesus.

Discovery of older manuscripts proves that the original saying of Jesus read simply: "Your Father who sees in secret will reward you." The Sermon on the Mount begins with a warning against religion which is external:

"Beware of practicing your piety before men" (Matthew 6:1, RSV).

If Jesus had gone on to guarantee that God would give open rewards, that would have been a denial of the very point he sets out to make! Actually, it accords with our human experience that God's rewards are inward and secret rather than outward and obvious.

Flunking Unfair, Educators Say

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Buck up, Junior! If you got an F on your school report card last month, perhaps it shouldn't be there.

A group of educators here for a regional meeting of the American Assn. of School Administrators say it shouldn't.

But, the group admitted in an interview, it will take time to convince your teacher, your father, and even your school board.

"We don't have to have failures in our classrooms," said Mrs. Newton P. Leonard, of Providence, R. I., president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

With her in the discussion were J. C. Wright, Iowa superintendent of public instruction; Dr. Francis G. Cornell, professor of education at the University of Illinois; Darrell Blodgett, superintendent of schools at Wheaton, Ill.; and Mrs. Irma Detjen, of Webster Groves, head of the Missouri Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Chief objection to the present day report, said Dr. Cornell, is that it tells only what happened the past semester and gives no indication of what the child can or will do in the future.

Free South Viet Nam Assured Support If Communists Attack

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dulles assured Premier Ngo Dinh Diem today of massive support from the Manila pact powers and particularly the United States if free South Viet Nam is attacked by the Communists.

Dulles in his first visit to what is regarded as the most sensitive area in Southeast Asia, expressed confidence in Diem's ability to solve the nation's critical internal problems. He said Britain, France and all other responsible nations concerned share this feeling.

Flood Takes 3 In West Virginia

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP)—Three persons were missing today as flood waters from the Guyan River boiled into homes along its banks in this southern West Virginia area.

Streams throughout the parts of West Virginia and eastern Kentucky below Huntington and Charleston were on the rampage. More rain fell overnight. The Weather Bureau at Huntington could not determine immediately whether there might be a new surge to even higher crests.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, 25, and Jimmy Barr and his son, Jimmy Jr., were listed by National Guard officers here as unaccounted for. A young daughter of Mrs. Jones was among 245 persons evacuated from low lying homes and quartered overnight in the National Guard armory.

The State Road Commission reported all roads in Logan and adjoining Mingo counties, were closed.

Lease Of Marquette Airport Approved For 99-Year Term

LANSING (AP)—The State Administrative Board agreed to lease the K. I. Sawyer Airport in Marquette County to the U. S. Air Force.

The lease is at the rate of a dollar a year for 99 years subject to cancellation if the Air Force does not make use of the facility.

The board balked at agreeing to continual renewals of the lease for 99-year periods after the first 99 years had expired.

The airport was sold by the conservation department to Marquette County in 1948 and was deeded back to the state Feb. 23.

Building Floats In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (P)—Mexico City's newest and tallest skyscraper — 43 stories and 600 feet — is built on a floating foundation like a pontoon.

Construction of the office building, twice as tall as any other in the city, made the foundation a special problem. Mexico City is built on wet clay. Pressure on the clay forces out the water and it shrinks. Bedrock is so far down beneath the clay that engineers cannot put the foundation on the rock.

Planners for the Latin American Insurance Co., owner of the building, decided to float part of the weight. A hole was dug 45 feet deep over all the area the building occupies. Water-tight walls and floor were braced inside. The result is that the upward pressure of the water and clay around the building support part of the weight, just as the upward pressure of the water supports a ship. Piles which mushroom out at the bottom support the rest of the weight by friction with the clay.

Asia's Oldest Tribes Passing

NEW DELHI, (P)—Indian government sociologists and anthropologists are struggling to preserve two of South Asia's oldest tribes, each on the brink of extinction. The scientists have been spurred this year by one of their more notable victories — the birth of 50 babies to mothers of the Toda tribe in South India.

However, the battle to save the primitive Andaman Island aborigines is not going so well. The Andamanese and the Todas, although separated by the wide stretch of water of the Bay of Bengal, seem to have been traveling the same road toward extinction in recent years. Census counts last year listed less than 500 Todas and 100 Andamanese.

Low birth rates, poor diets, disease and conflicts with the modern world have played havoc with these tribes as civilization uprooted them from their jungle homes. A century ago each tribe was thousands strong.

New Developments In Carpet Cleaning

Fina Foam, the amazing carpet cleaner, now is better than ever.

Made from an entirely new formula, Fina Foam is now a triple-strength concentrate. You only add water to turn one gallon into three—and the price is only $2.25 for a gallon of concentrate.

Another innovation is the long-handled brush to apply the cleaning foam. Just stroke it back and forth like shuffleboard and watch the colors spring out like new, the nap bounces up soft and fluffy.

Will Select 2 Commissioners

Two city commissioners will be elected for full 3-year terms at the annual city election to be held on Monday, April 4, the terms of Michael LaPine and Adam Sinclair expiring.

Sinclair, who is completing his second term on the city's governing body, said yesterday that he will seek re-election to the office.

LaPine said he had not as yet decided whether he would retire from public life or would seek another term on the commission.

In addition to the two commissioners, a justice of the peace to succeed Oliver C. Estenson, resigned, will be named.

Religious Film Will Be Shown At Union Services Here

The film, "I Beheld His Glory" will be shown Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., in the First Baptist Church during the second in a series of union Lenten services here.

The sound-color picture tells of the conversion of Cornelius the Centurion to Christianity, after he witnesses the Crucifixion and Resurrection of Jesus.

The public has been invited. No admission will be charged but an offering will be received for the Ministerial Association.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and sister, Mrs. Dora Stewart, who passed away one year ago, Feb. 28, 1954.

We seem to see in the soft dim light,

A face we loved the best;

And think of her when the sun's last ray

Goes down in the far off west.

We miss you no less as the time passes on,

Than we did on the day of your going.

For absence can never close the door of our hearts,

And the lamp of our love is still glowing.

Your heart was the truest in all the wide world;

Your love the best to recall;

For no one on earth could take your place,

You are still the dearest of all.

Signed:

Husband, daughters, brothers and sisters.

Rotary Honors Boy Scouting

Eight Scouts of Rotary sponsored Troop 466 were guests of the club at its Monday noon-day luncheon at the Yacht Club and received awards at a Court of Honor presided over by Scoutmaster Jim Roddy and Assistant Scoutmaster Leonard Newendorp.

Star awards went to Jeff Goodman and Doug Maskart, first class awards to Allan Dobney, Jim Frantz, John Yirsa and Gordon Sirola and 2nd class awards to Robert Anderson and Tim Bolger.

Scout executive Carl Martin, Marquette, related in interesting fashion some of his experiences in 25 years of Scouting.

The speaker said there were four stages in a child's life: the wee stage when the infant is entirely dependent upon its mother; the second or knee stage during which that dependency still exists; the see stage when mother and father are buffeted with questions which must be answered; and the we stage when boys reach an age they want to travel in gangs. Hero worship usually begins at this stage, too. Scouting recognizes the gang instinct in youths of a certain age and controls it through programs under good adult leadership.

Father should make a companion of his son during the we period so that if possible father will be the one the son worships, the speaker declared.

Scouting also recognizes that a different program must be available when the boy grows older so there is the Explorer Scouts which has a four-fold program of indoor, social and service activities.

Its program provides a real challenge to the teen-ager, Martin said, such as a week or 10-day canoe trip.

Scouting can do a wealth of good for boys of Gladstone as it does in every other area where a program is conducted, the speaker said in closing.

Forester Is Assigned Here For Timber Survey

The Lakes States Forest Experiment station in St. Paul, Minn., has assigned a ranger to Manistique to begin a 2-year survey of private timber resources in the eastern section of Upper Michigan. The survey is part of a nationwide inventory of private, state and federal timber resources begun last year.

The survey officer, Vergil Vindell, has already arrived and this week is working in Newberry. Later in the week he plans to be in the Sault Ste. Marie area.

Vindell, who formerly was stationed on the ranger district of the Kootenai National Forest in northwest Montana, will headquarter in Manistique. He plans to move his wife and two children here in mid-March.

The U. S. Forest Service ranger office here reports the State of Michigan has nearly completed a survey of timber on its lands, and an inventory of federal timber resources has already been completed in the western half of the Upper Peninsula.

The data on timber volume, not now available, will be used for determining industrial locations and for other purposes. An assistant may be assigned to Vindell here in June.

Aerial photographs taken last summer and field samples will be used in computing the timber volume. Data from the various sections will be assembled by the U. S. Forest Experiment station at St. Paul.

City Backs Plan To Buy Tax Writing Equipment

The Manistique City Council Monday night moved to participate proportionately in cost of purchasing tax writing equipment for joint use by political subdivisions in Schoolcraft county if a majority of townships also agree to share in the cost.

A representative for a firm supplying the needed equipment, Martin M. Johnston, of Green Bay, appeared before the Council to explain operation of the equipment, costs, and the services provided in writing tax rolls, assessment rolls, tax statements and receipts. In addition the firm edits tax descriptions to put them in concise form and to ascertain their accuracy.

Three meetings are planned in various sections of the county with township boards this week and next week to discuss the proposal with supervisors. Costs are apportioned on the basis of the number of tax descriptions and the amount of work involved in checking descriptions, it was indicated.

Insurance Study

The council's motion also authorized the city clerk to execute an agreement with the county, entrusting title to the equipment to the county if the tax writing devices are obtained.

Gogebic and Iron counties have finished installation of the machines and Delta County now is installing them, the representative said. It saves time and provides greater accuracy in preparation of tax rolls and other forms, he explained.

In other business Monday night the Council deferred action on an insurance proposal covering the city's vehicles, with the recommendation that the manager and other officials study it and present a report at the next session. The proposal contained plans for decreasing insurance costs by determining true value of vehicles on which depreciation has accrued.

Park Enlargement

A resolution from the Menominee City Council, asking that the Manistique Council and those of other Upper Michigan cities endorse a proposal for legislative action to provide ferry service between Menominee and Frankfort, was tabled.

The Council also received letters from U. S. Sen. Charles E. Potter and Rep. Victor A. Knox stating they would support legislation to provide for deepening and improving Great Lakes Channels in preparation for facilitating boat passage when the St. Lawrence Seaway is completed. The Manistique Port Authority earlier had requested such support.

A report from the Department of Social Welfare was presented, showing that January expenditures for direct relief in the City of Manistique totaled $1,134.99; and an offer to purchase the Hewitt Grocery company property, for enlargement of the park area there was rejected, because it was believed the cost was too high. The area is 160 by 600 feet, it was reported by the City manager, Orson Livermore. It would be valuable for park purposes, but the building would be of little value to the city, Councilmen observed.

National Guard Will Send Six To Radio School

One officer and five radio operators from Company D of the National Guard 107th engineer battalion here will be selected this week to attend a signal communications school to be conducted by 5th Army personnel at Ishpeming March 5.

Manistique men attending will instruct other company personnel on their return here, in preparation for communication tests at Camp Grayling Aug. 6-20. Both portable and vehicle-mounted radio operation and maintenance will be covered in the Ishpeming meeting.

The National Guard company in Manistique, which has 61 men and five officers, is presently seeking to increase its strength by enlisting new Guardsmen. By enlisting at age 17, young men lower the age at which they complete their military obligations, the company points out, and Guard membership provides both training and military longevity entitlement for retirement and pay purposes.

Men interested in enlisting may report at the armory between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, and at 7:30 p. m., or Monday's during regular drill. Those under 18 must have parental consent as well as birth certificates.

A resolution also was passed by the Council creating a Park Planning committee with a membership of five, to advise and make recommendations on development and layout of parks and the order of development. The resolution is drawn so that the new commission's functions do not overlap those of the recreation commission, it was pointed out by the Council.

Members of the new group, who also are to be named at the next Council meeting, will serve without pay for three years and will select their own chairman. For the initial formation of the commission, one member will be appointed for one year and two for two and two for three year terms.

ESCANABA HAWKS—The Escanaba Hawks are set for their last-ditch battle for second place in the NMO Hockey League tonight at the fairgrounds rink against the Portage Lake Pioneers. The teams are currently tied for second place in the standings. Playing their final home game of the season will be, front row,

Hawks Host To Pioneers In Key Hockey Clash Tonight

The Escanaba Hawks have their aim dead set on second place in the Northern Michigan-Ontario League final standings and they will be out to clinch that objective when they entertain the Portage Lake Pioneers tonight at 8:15 at the fairgrounds rink.

All the Hawks have to do to finish in second place is win tonight. If they fail to win, they will be in no danger of slipping out of a playoff berth, however. A loss would drop the Hawks into a third-place spot in the final standings, as Escanaba and Portage Lake are currently tied with 22 points apiece. Marquette and Calumet are knotted for fourth with 16.

Not only are the Hawks and the Pioneers tied for second, they have split evenly in their five meetings thus far this season. The Hawks won two, 4-1 and 6-5; the Pioneers won two, 14-3 and 9-1, and the teams played to a 6-6 tie. Both of the Escanaba wins were scored at the fairgrounds rink here while the Portage Lake wins and the tie were registered at Houghton's Dee Stadium.

Expect Largest Crowd

The game tonight is expected to draw the season's largest crowd here. Sunday afternoon when the Hawks trounced Marquette 6-0 there were 666 fans on hand and officials of the Escanaba Hockey Association expect tonight's attendance to top that figure.

The Hawks are in perfect shape for their final home stand of the regular season. Player-coach Mark Olson said today that there were no serious injuries in the rugged clash with Marquette and that all players will be available tonight. Steve Butorac and Tony Mancini, Canadian Soo players, will be here for duty tonight, as they were Sunday, Olson said.

With all players available, the Hawks will start with Big Ben Artwisch, who turned in the sparkling shutout over Marquette, in the nets, Olson, Joe Ricci and Buddy Provo on the first line and Joe Nogalo and Floyd Stac on defense.

Will Honor Artwisch

The Hawks will have Mancini, Butorac, Warner Wilson and Aimo Muhonen available for second line duty with Bob Higgins and spare defensemen will be Dick Johnson and Clarence Matt.

The Pioneers, led by veteran Tony Bukovich, top scorer in the NMO League, have made a tremendous late-season spurt to move up to the tie for second place. The Portage Lake team, sprinkled with veterans and classy newcomers, has won its last six games with the exception of two losses to the league-leading Canadian Soo Esquires.

Colorado Wins First Big Seven Cage Title; Kentucky Is Near

The Associated Press

Colorado today held its first undisputed Big Seven basketball championship, while Kentucky and Iowa began consulting timetables to the NCAA post-season tournament.

The Buffaloes, who finished in a tie for the Big Seven title last year and then represented the league in the NCAA tourney on the toss of a coin, won't have to depend on luck this time.

They polished off Missouri 66-57 at Columbia Monday night to cement the crown. This one was won from the free-throw line where the Buffs made good on 30 of 39 fouls. Missouri, the only remaining challenger, started fast in both halves but faded badly at the end.

Two Near Titles

Kentucky and Iowa will have to await the outcome of the final games in the Southeastern Conference and Big Ten, respectively, Saturday before they can make their reservations to the NCAA tourney definite. Right now they're each assured of at least a tie for the title.

The Wildcats made it by whipping Alabama 66-52 in Lexington Monday night. Kentucky, No. 2 in The Associated Press basketball poll, has lost only two games all season, both to Georgia Tech, a conference team.

Iowa broke Minnesota's heart with a 72-70 victory over the Gophers before an astounding crowd of 20,176, probably the largest ever to see a basketball game in a field house. Only a week ago, Minnesota was entertaining high hopes of winning its first undisputed Big Ten championship in 36 years. The Hawkeyes haven't taken the crown in a decade.

Only a week ago, Minnesota was entertaining high hopes of winning its first undisputed Big Ten championship in 36 years. The Hawkeyes haven't taken the crown in a decade.

The situation is identical in both the Southeastern and Big Ten loops. Kentucky must lose to Tennessee and Alabama must lick Auburn Saturday for the Southeastern to finish in a tie. In the Big Ten, Iowa must bow to Michigan and Minnesota must turn back Wisconsin for a deadlock. Both are highly improbable.

The Missouri Valley race is all tied up with St. Louis and Tulsa sharing the top of the heap, each with 7-2 records. The Billikens whipped Houston 90-87 Monday night to pull into the deadlock. St. Louis meets Oklahoma A&M and Tulsa plays Wichita Saturday.

Georgia Tech closed out its best Southeastern Conference season in five years by whipping Florida 88-68. Louisiana State outscored Mississippi 68-65; Vanderbilt clinched third place with a 78-57 triumph over Georgia; Tulane breezed past Mississippi State 78-59, and Tennessee triumphed over Auburn 86-77.

Spartans Win

In other Big Ten action, Michigan State halted defending champion Indiana 93-77; Illinois routed Michigan 81-74, and Wisconsin outscored Purdue 75-73.

Drake, which would like to get an "at large" bid to the NCAA tourney, polished off Oklahoma City 87-70.

Bradley, NCAA finalist a year ago, snapped a 14-game losing streak by edging Wichita 79-67.

Management of the Escanaba team revealed today that goalie Artwisch will be honored at tonight's game. Artwisch, resident of Stambaugh, will be presented with a 21-inch television set as a gesture of appreciation from the players, fans and business men in Escanaba. Artwisch has tended the Escanaba nets for five seasons and is regarded as the top goal tender in the league.

Hockey officials also announced that 14 members of the Gladstone Indians, amateur hockey team, will be guests of the Escanaba Hockey Association at the game.

Iowa Nips Gophers To Clinch Share Of Title

CHICAGO (P)—Iowa's Hawkeyes, staging one of the finest seasonal comebacks in Big Ten history, have clinched a share of the Big Ten basketball title and are expected to win it all at Michigan Monday night.

After losing two of their first five conference games, the Hawkeyes came back with eight straight victories climaxed by Monday night's 72-70 thriller at Minnesota.

Rated the No. 1 preseason contender, Iowa looked like a flop after its first five Western Conference games.

The Hawks were beaten by Minnesota at Iowa. They had to struggle from behind to subdue Illinois at Iowa and then they reached their lowest depths when they were beaten by 20 points in a nationally televised game against Northwestern.

But that was all. One by one Iowa opponents fell before Hawkeye balance and speed.

First Ohio State, then Purdue, Indiana, Ohio State again, Michigan State, Illinois, Michigan and finally Minnesota when Sharm Sheurman pumped in a 10-footer for a 71-70 Iowa lead. Deacon Davis hit a free throw and that was the game.

It wiped out a brilliant performance by Minnesota's Chuck Menchel who popped in 27 points and led a late rally which nearly won the game for the Gophers.

Three other games were played in the conference. Illinois defeated Michigan, 81-75; Wisconsin edged Purdue, 75-73, and Michigan State dumped Indiana's ex-champions, 93-77.

Illinois clinched undisputed possession of third place and retained a possibility of finishing in a second place tie.

Free Throw Payoff

Michigan State moved into a fourth place tie with idle Northwestern and Wisconsin jumped into an eighth place tie with Indiana and idle Ohio State.

In only one of the four games played Monday night did the winning team outscore the losers from the field. That was Michigan State with 30 field goals to 25 for Indiana.

Iowa and Minnesota each had 25, Purdue outscored Wisconsin 28-22 and Michigan had 30 field goals to 28 for Illinois.

Free throws paid off big and Michigan State's Al Ferrari set a new conference record of 21 in one game. The old record was 17 set by Don Schlundt of Indiana in 1953.

Ted Williams Is Among Major League Holdouts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ted Williams was among the absenteees as the major league baseball teams officially began their spring training routine today with 34 other players still unsigned.

Players are classified as hold-outs, according to spring training tradition, if they haven't returned their signed contracts by March 1. However, only about half the recalcitrants were regarded as actual holdouts.

The status of Williams, fishing leisurely off the Florida keys, remained a question mark. General manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox said Monday night in Sarasota that Williams promised "to call me in the near future and give me a definite answer" whether he'll play ball in 1955.

Indians Have Woes

The Cleveland Indians were having the biggest holdout woes with 10 members of last season's American League pennant winners still unsigned.

The New York Giants, St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cubs, Cincinnati Redlegs, Philadelphia Phils and the New York Yankees had all their players signed.

Hank Greenberg, Cleveland General Manager had three of his key performers—pitcher Early Wynn, second baseman Bobby Avila and outfielder Larry Doby—to contend with.

Wynn, usually one of the last to agree to terms, was reported to be asking for $40,000 and Avila and Doby around $30,000.

Kansas City and Washington also were having their holdout worries. The unsigned Athletics were John Gray, Cloyd Boyer, Ed Barbsch, Jim Finigan and Forest Jacobs. The Senators had not received the signed contracts of Mickey Vernon, Eddie Yost, Bob Porterfield, Jim Busby and Roy Sievers.

Minors Still Out

The Chicago White Sox and the Pittsburgh Pirates have two stubborn holdouts in outfielders Minnie Miroski and Frank Thomas.

Five members of the Milwaukee Braves—including Eddie Mathews and Gene Conley—came to terms Monday night leaving only infielders George Crowe and William Caro unsigned.

Others unsigned included: Detroit—pitcher Bob Cruise; Cleveland—pitchers Bob Hooper, Bill Wright, Hank Aguirre; outfielders Dave Philley, Wally Westlake; infielder Rudy Regalado; catcher Hank Foles.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Escanaba hockey fans were not happy with the performance of the Marquette Sentinels in the Sunday afternoon game here. When the Hawks took a 6-0 lead early in the third period, the Sentinels apparently gave up all thoughts of even averting a shutout and began looking for blood. The game ended with six—yes six—Sentinels in the penalty box. It was really fortunate that none of the players suffered serious injury in the uncalculated-for rough stuff in the third period.

When Portage Lake, tonight's Escanaba foe, played at Marquette last week the Pioneers also got a taste of Marquette's rough-house tactics. Pioneers injured in the game were Paul Coppo with a head cut, Tony Bukovich with a shoulder injury from a stick and Jerry Kestner with a hip injury. The Houghton Mining Gazette reported that Pioneer goalie Ray Tapani suffered the indignity of having balcony fans spit on him through the game and Referee Matt Pavelich was slugged by a fan who was taken into custody by the police. The Pioneers won the game, 4-3.

Tonight's game will be a crucial one for the Hawks. They'll be battling for the second-place slot in the final standings and must win to get it. If they slip into third place they'll have to face the rugged Canadian Soo Esquires in the first set of playoff games. If they take second, they will meet either Calumet or Marquette in the best-of-three elimination series. The game should draw the peak crowd of this season.

The drawings for the Class B district basketball tournament which starts at Holy Name Thursday night couldn't have come out better. With Escanaba meeting Stephenson Thursday and Holy Name playing Menominee Friday, the tournament should draw tremendous crowds each night. With Holy Name's 2100-plus capacity gym, it's a cinch more fans will see the district tourney than over any given period in past history in this city.

Milwaukee Fighter Wins Two Kayoes In Chicago

CHICAGO (P)—The "big men" step into action in the three rings at Chicago Stadium tonight to seek quarterfinal berths in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions.

Approximately 100 bouts of the 112, 118, 126 and 135 pound classes opened the meet Monday night. The 147, 160, 175 pounders and heavyweights compete tonight for a chance at Wednesday's quarterfinals. The semifinals and finals will be at the stadium March 10.

Leading the lighter youths through two preliminary rounds was defending 126-pound champion Joe Charles, a southpaw sharpshooter on the Kansas City team.

He won two decisions, but the real blasting was done by Jim Darnell, 135, Rockford, Ill., and Joe Clark, 118, Milwaukee.

Darnell stopped Jim Bagley of Memphis in the second round of his first three-round bout and then battered Booker Washington of Muncie, Ind., to a halt in less than two minutes of his second fight.

Clark was even more explosive, scoring two clean-cut first round knockouts. He polished off Bill Burden of Tulsa with his vicious right and did the same to Pete Negrete of Omaha.

In the team title competition, Louisville broke by qualifying men in all four of the lighter weight brackets, good for eight points.

Menominee Five Edges Rodman's

HERMANSVILLE — Rodman's Bar quint bowed to the Menominee Jozaitis by a 65-64 margin last night at the Community Center gym, losing to a terrific spurt in the final period.

Rodman's entered the fourth quarter with a 56-48 lead but couldn't hold it.

The teams will meet again at Hermansville Sunday night, March 6, at 8:30 EST.

Hockey Fan Comments

Gladstone, Mich.
Feb. 28, 1955

Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to comment on the recent hockey game between the Eskey Hawks and the Marquette Sentinels. I am a hockey fan and I have seen many games between Escanaba and Marquette, and (Marquette and Portage Lake and Calumet). When I went to Marquette games against Portage Lake or Calumet, I was definitely for Marquette, it being in our area, and not in the Copper Country. The Marquette fans, which number never less than 1600, backed their team to the limit, which is a wonderful boost that any team should be proud of.

In the recent game between Eskey and Marquette, I believe as many others do, that Marquette showed very poor sportsmanship in the last two minutes of the game. Knowing that they had no chance to win, they deliberately fouled every chance they got, instead of trying to keep from getting a shutout. This certainly is not the kind of team those 1600 to 2000 fans in Marquette deserve.

Our Eskey Hawks have many times been behind such as Marquette, but never have I seen them or any team in the league give up, and deliberately commit foul after foul.

Again I'll say I'm only an individual hockey fan, but I could never support a quitting team. WHAT'S WRONG MARQUETTE? YOUR FANS DESERVE BETTER.

Monday Results

Fort Wayne 90, Minneapolis 88

Philadelphia 101, Milwaukee 84

A three-week carnival — in which a field of 650 hopefuls will be methodically cut to five champions — gets underway tonight with a light preliminary schedule of 14 games.

The main action starts Wednesday night, when more than 100 games will be played.

In tonight's leading games, Ellsworth, with 16 victories in 18 starts, meets Central Lake in Class D at Petoskey, while Reed City, which had a 12-3 record during the regular season, faces Barryton, Class C at Big Rapids.

31 Straight Wins

None of the unbeaten teams or defending champions play tonight. Lansing St. Mary (class B) winner of its last 31 games—17 this season — plays Mason Wednesday. Spring Arbor (class D), which also had a perfect 17-0 record during the season, drew a bye into the district final at Jackson High School.

Coach Don McDonald's Blue Jays will play the winner of the Cement City-Hanover game in Saturday's finale.

Giardello, Mueller Are Set For Battle

MILWAUKEE (P)—Joey Giardello and Peter Mueller, each looking for a shot at a middleweight title bout, meet here tonight in a scheduled 10 round affair that could attract $40,000 worth of fight fans.

Giardello, of Philadelphia, has won 11 of his last 13 starts. His victims include Ernie Durando, Gil Turner, Walter Carter, Ralph "Tiger" Jones and Willie Troy.

Mueller, of Germany, beat Jones, Joe Miceli and Durando, but in his last bout lost a decision to Carmen Basilio.

Gladstone Plays At 7 At Crystal On Friday

CRYSTAL FALLS—(Special To Press)—A correction on the Class C district tournament time schedule announced over the weekend was made today by Wilbur Schenk, tournament manager here.

The correction involves the Gladstone-Crystal Falls second round game Friday night. The game will be played at 7 p. m.

The correct complete tournament schedule follows:

Thursday
Marquette Baraga vs. Norway, 8

Friday
Gladstone vs. Crystal Falls, 7
Stambaugh vs. Marquette-Norway winner, 8:30

Saturday
Championship game, 8
Crystal Falls and Stambaugh were seeded in the tournament on the basis of season records against Class C competition. Gladstone drew the bye in the first round.
Ticket plans were announced last week by Schenk. Each of the four schools playing Friday night will have 50 reserved seats for sale to local fans. The Crystal Falls gym holds upwards of 900 fans and gym doors will be opened 45 minutes before the first game each night for the sale of general admission tickets.

San Francisco Tops Cage List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the fourth straight week the University of San Francisco today was named the No. 1 college basketball team in the weekly Associated Press poll with Kentucky and LaSalle still in close pursuit.

Of the 104 sports writers and sportscasters voting, 43 named San Francisco as the top team.

Duquesne, seeded No. 1 in the National Invitation Tournament, fell from fourth to eighth after bowing to Dayton. The Flyers seeded No. 2 in the NIT, moved up from 11th to 10th.

The leaders, with first place votes in parentheses:

1. San Francisco (43) 888
2. Kentucky (15) 723
3. LaSalle (9) 640
4. Marquette (8) 460

Humez Wins, Wants Shot At Champion

PARIS (P)—Charles Humez clamored for a shot at middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson today on the strength of his fifth round technical knockout of durable Pierre Langlois in the battle of French contenders.

Langlois fought Olson in San Francisco last Dec. 15 and that title scrap was stopped in the 11th round because of a nasty gash over Pierre's left eye.

The referee had to halt Monday night's contest in the capacity-crowded Palais Des Sports, too, but only after the 29-year-old Langlois had been battered into helplessness by Humez' destructive blows.

Lancour Wins Chicago Bout But Suffers Bad Head Cut

CHICAGO (Special To Press)—Harvard Lancour, 126 pound Golden Gloves champion of the Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin, battled his way through the opening round of the Tournament of Champions last night but suffered a head cut that may prevent him from continuing on the tournament trail.

Lancour pounded out an impressive three round decision over the Chicago city champion, Emmanuel Aghassi, last year's Tournament of Champions runner-up. But the Manistiquie scrapper suffered a severe gash over his right eye as the result of a butt with five seconds remaining in the fight.

Three clamps were needed to close the cut and tournament doctors were trying to get Lancour ready for the semifinal round on Wednesday night, but were not able to determine if he would be able to continue.

Lancour took all three rounds from the highly-regarded Aghassi, using a flashing hook and a hard right uppercut. Aghassi was warned by the referee three times for butting and hitting on the breaks.

The Milwaukee Journal team won four other fights in the preliminary round last night. Bantamweight Joe Clark scored two first-round knockouts, flyweight Melvin Givens scored a TKO and a decision. Lightweight John Theobald drew a bye and lost on a decision.

Independent Cagers Will Meet Thursday

A second independent basketball meeting will be held at the Escanaba Senior High gym Thursday night and team managers are asked to be on hand promptly at 7.

A decision on whether to form a City League or to use the Thursday nights for practice sessions will be made. Independent players will have use of the gym until 8.

Eight Prep Quints Own Unbeaten Marks

(By The Associated Press)

Eight teams, led by Lansing St. Marys and Spring Arbor, bring perfect records into the 30th annual state high school basketball tournament.

A three-week carnival — in which a field of 650 hopefuls will be methodically cut to five champions — gets underway tonight with a light preliminary schedule of 14 games.

The main action starts Wednesday night, when more than 100 games will be played.

In tonight's leading games, Ellsworth, with 16 victories in 18 starts, meets Central Lake in Class D at Petoskey, while Reed City, which had a 12-3 record during the regular season, faces Barryton, Class C at Big Rapids.

31 Straight Wins

None of the unbeaten teams or defending champions play tonight. Lansing St. Mary (class B) winner of its last 31 games—17 this season — plays Mason Wednesday. Spring Arbor (class D), which also had a perfect 17-0 record during the season, drew a bye into the district final at Jackson High School.

Coach Don McDonald's Blue Jays will play the winner of the Cement City-Hanover game in Saturday's finale.

Houghton Undeclared

Flint St. Michael, pressed in its final three games of the season, winning by one, two, and three points, meets Flint Kearsley Friday, Inkster plays Sacred Heart Friday.

In class C Scottville plays Western Michigan Friday, while Bath meets Laingsburg Wednesday. St. Charles, champion of the Saginaw-Gratiot County Conference, drew a first-round bye and will meet the winner of the Corunna-Byron game Friday.

Houghton, the lone unbeaten team in the Upper Peninsula, gets into action Friday night, facing Baraga. Houghton, an all-veteran team, scored 1.199 points during the season for an average of 74.9 a game. It scored 100 points in two successive games.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE YOUR PRESS WANT AD
To sell lots, farms, pets, livestock, machinery, cars, household items, etc.

Use This Simplified Method To Figure Cost Of Ad:
 FIRST—Count every word in your ad. Fifteen-word minimum.
 SECOND—Multiply the number of words by 5c for one time, by 12c for three times, and by 18c for six times. This will give you the exact cost.
 EXAMPLE
 15 words for three times would be 15x12c or $1.80.
 15 words for six times would be 15x18c or $2.70.

Missionary Couple Soon To See 2 Sons Rescued From Reds

HONOLULU (AP) — An American missionary couple are nearing the end of their fight to be reunited with their two adopted Tibetan sons with whom they walked out over the roof of the world four years ago to escape the Chinese Communists.

The final chapter may be written soon in Hawaii.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Nichols, now missionaries in Hawaii for The Church of Christ, rode mules and walked across Tibet's snow-capped mountains for four months to save the two boys, Reuben, now 6, and Andrew, 16, from the Reds.

Author Michener Helps

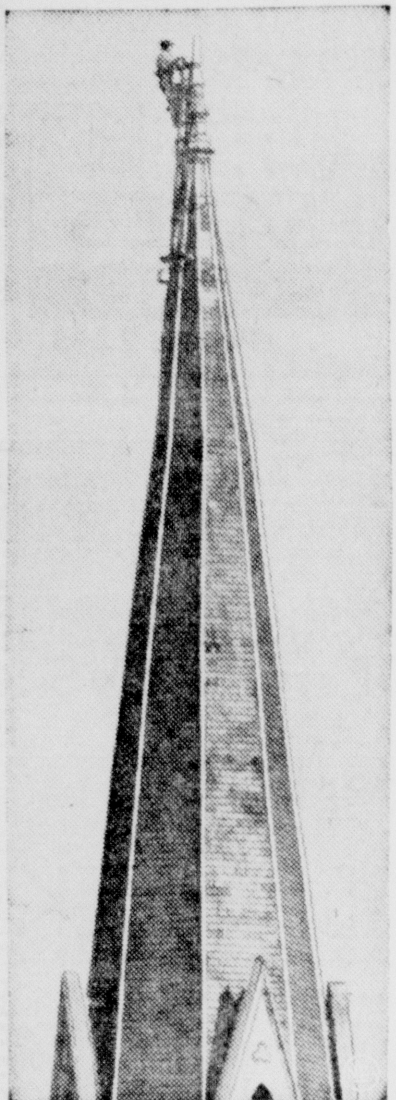

The boys are awaiting transportation in Thailand, where the Nichols arrived via India in 1953. The prelude to the last chapter has been written by James Michener, American author who was asked by Nichols for advice. They met here early this month as Michener passed through on the way to the Far East. Saturday Michener sent this message to The Associated Press here:

"Please inform Rev. Nichols have completed arrangements Thailand government. Both boys coming home."

Mongrel Dog Brings Home Scatter Rugs

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Wiggles, a 9-month-old mongrel dog, is building quite a display of rugs in the Joseph R. Mahoney home—and Mahoney doesn't know where they're coming from.

He says the dog—has dragged at least half a dozen scatter rugs, some evidently costly, onto the Mahoney premises in recent months.

HIGH PAY, TOO? — Steeplejack Carl Lottis has a high-level job in Washington. He's installing a new cross atop the steeple of St. Andrew's Ukrainian Orthodox Church. The new cross, rising over 250 feet in the air, replaces an 84-year-old cross.

New Jelly-Like Formula Knocks Baked Grease Off Oven Surfaces

"ITS" is the name of a new oven cleaner that restores oven surfaces to grease-free newness without scraping or scrubbing.

The substance is brushed on, allowed to stand, then wiped clean with water. "ITS" oven cleaner is available at The Fair Store for $1 and this includes a plastic brush. "ITS" is non-inflammable and spectacular in performance. 3rd Floor The Fair Store.

Notice Of Baldwin Township Registration

Notice is hereby given that Monday, March 7, 1955 is the deadline for registering for the Biennial Spring Election to be held on April 4, 1955.

Registration may be made at my home any day, except Sunday, up until the above date.

Charles Nordstrom,
Clerk

When the radiogram was read to Nichols over the telephone, there was a long pause.

Asked later what the pause was about, Nichols looked upward and said: "I said praise the Lord."

Nichols is 55, his wife, 56. They have three daughters and a son of their own. Both came from Nebraska originally, he from Lincoln and she from Omaha.

They went to Tibet as missionaries in 1938.

After the war, they adopted two Tibetan boys at their mission at Batang, on the Chinese-Tibetan border. The Communists got there in 1950. "I knew we would have to go," Nichols says.

Hounded Three Years

On their way out to India the Nichols and the boys crossed mountain passes 10,000 to 15,000 feet high during the extremely dangerous winter months.

The Indians admitted them as refugees. They established a mission, but lacking visitors permits they were hounded for three years by Indian investigators.

Nichols wrote to nearly 50 countries trying to gain admittance.

The answer was always the same. They could come but the adopted Tibetan boys could not.

Thailand finally gave them visitor permits in March 1953.

They left India. Nichols came to Hawaii last January, and Mrs. Nichols followed in August, leaving the children with Nichols' nephew, Garland Bare, a Church of Christ missionary in northern Thailand.

The children couldn't come because Thailand didn't issue re-entry permits which were needed to come here.

Now they can come, and when the Nichols have more information they plan to buy plane tickets for the boys to Hawaii.

ROCKED OUT — This "ole rockin' chair," covered with notes and the signatures of his fellow workers was the "goodby" message to Abraham L. Young, who retired this month. He had been with Armco Steel Corporation at Middletown, Ohio, for 40 years. Here he looks over some of the messages before taking off for New Orleans and the Mardi Gras. (Exclusive NEA Photo)

NO PEEK-ABOO

It is not a good idea to play peek-a-boo with a young baby. Sometimes a child will play the game alone pulling covers over her head, and in the excitement twist the covers in a way that will be difficult for her to remove.

THE TERRIBLE PAINS OF RHEUMATISM-ARTHRITIS KEPT ME AWAKE NIGHTS

"Before using O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I couldn't even raise my arms to comb my hair," says Mrs. Charlotte Cooper-smith, 24608 Valley St., East Detroit.

Rheumatism and arthritis in my arms, shoulders, and neck, pained so bad that I couldn't even raise my arms to comb my hair. My neck bothered me too, as it was stiff and pained terribly when I tried to turn my head. Why, I could hardly wash clothes, as it caused my arm to pain just to have my hands in the water. Mrs. Coopersmith sleeping well at night was difficult as every time I turned in my sleep, the pains in my neck would wake me up again. Massages, liniments, heat lamps and electric pads all made my neck stiffer. I just didn't know what to do to stop the pains. I suffered like this for about a year when a relative told me about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. He had rheumatism and arthritis in his legs and knees so bad that he could hardly walk or even stand up. O-JIB-WA had put him back on his feet, so I thought it might help me. In about three weeks I could actually feel the difference, and by the time two months had passed, I was all better. I could move my neck without fear of pain. I do all of my housework now, and sleep well every night. The good sleep helps my nerves and gives me lots of pep and ambition. Words fail to praise O-JIB-WA BITTERS enough for what it has done for me."

Who Saved The Life Of Margie Jean?

ANSWER THE CALL!

JOIN YOUR RED CROSS

Margie Jean Orton nearly lost her life when a huge automobile tire rack fell on her in a service station near her home in Kansas. But many people knew what to do to save the life of Margie Jean. The doctor. The nurse. The ambulance driver. You helped, too. Because if you joined the Red Cross your generosity has helped to pay for the collecting, processing, storing and distributing of blood in blood banks, like the one that supplied nearly 40 transfusions for Margie Jean.

This is just one of many examples of how your Red Cross is people helping people. You are not alone when you need help or when you give help. That is the Red Cross way when disaster strikes; when blood or first aid saves a life; when a serviceman or his family needs help.

If you believe that no one should be alone when they need help or when they give help, you'll join your Red Cross and give generously.
